

After God delivered His people from Egyptian slavery He instructed them about what they should do as His covenant partners. They were to be loyal to Him as the only true God, make no idols, respect His name, and worship Him regularly. They should show respect for their parents, their marriage vows, human life, and other people's property. They should not lie or covet. Moses wrote God's words and read them to the people. The Israelites joined Moses and God in a public covenant ceremony to demonstrate their willingness to obey God.

Several thousand years later ....

Rex invited his co-worker, Greg, to visit his church for the pastor's sermon series on the Ten Commandments. Greg replied, "I think all so-called values are relative." Rex responded, "If God exists, then surely He has the right to set the standards for His people." Greg answered, "Well, you might be right. I do believe in God, but I'm not sure about the value of the Ten Commandments today."

If you believe in God...

If you believe God's values don't change...

If you believe God will keep all promises and covenants...

Then you must believe in the extreme risk of not taking Him seriously!!!

Romans 13

<sup>1</sup>Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God. <sup>2</sup>Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation. <sup>3</sup>For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same:
