

After God delivered His people from Egyptian slavery He instructed them about what they should do as His covenant partners. They were to be loyal to Him as the only true God, make no idols, respect His name, and worship Him regularly. They should show respect for their parents, their marriage vows, human life, and other people's property. They should not lie or covet. Moses read God's words to the people. The Israelites joined Moses and God in a public covenant ceremony to demonstrate their willingness to obey God.

Several thousand years later ....

Rex invited his co-worker, Greg, to visit his church for the pastor's sermon series on the Ten Commandments. Greg replied, "I think all so-called values are relative." Rex responded, "If you believe God exists, then surely He has the right to set the standards for His people." Greg answered, "Well, you might be right. I do believe in God, but I'm not sure the intolerant values of the Ten Commandments are right for today."

If you believe in God...
If you believe God's values don't change...
If you believe God will keep all promises and covenants...

Then you must believe in the extreme risk of not taking Him seriously!!!

1 Corinthians 11

<sup>1</sup>Be ye followers of me, even as I also am of Christ. <sup>2</sup>Now I praise you, brethren, that ye remember me in all things, and keep the ordinances, as I delivered them to you. <sup>3</sup>But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Christ; and the head of the woman is the man; and the head of Christ is God.

The above verses are studied in detail on Sunday and Wednesday evenings. Ya'll come!

Would you build a house without a foundation?
Such are the 10 Commandments to serving God.
God does not change and neither does His Foundation.
How is it that Man assumes authority to change God?
